MAISON FONDÉE EN 1842

VERDILLAC

SAUVIGNON BLANC

Armand Roux & Cie was founded in 1842 by Mr Armand Roux with a business partner Hendrik van der Voort. At the beginning, the company is a « generalist négociant » selling wines from Bordeaux, Burgundy and the Loire Valley. Now, the Armand Roux oenologist work with local wine growers to produce a range of Bordeaux wine.

The winemakers at Armand Roux become more involved with our partner growers at the early stages of the supply process, monitoring and advising on quality. The growers have been chosen on the potential of their terroir and the quality of their wines.

VINEYARD

The Bordeaux vineyard spreads across more than 110 000 hectares. Its position on the 45th parallel, facing the ocean, makes it unique in the world.

Made from 100% Sauvignon Blanc, Verdillac White reflects all the character of this grape variety and a complex aroma, obtained thanks to the selection of different lots of great qualities.

TASTING NOTES

«Verdillac Sauvignon Blanc is an attractive wine with its pale yellow colour and flashes of bright green and bouquet laden with exotic fruits and lemon notes. A combination of verve and elegance on the palate brings good overall structure, and the wine is fresh and delicious on the finish. A very well balanced wine. »
